The Mandeville Police Department has employed Police Records and Information Management Group for a comprehensive records management assessment. This project includes a top to bottom review of current information management practices as well as an on-site public records training session and development of new departmental policy.

Police Records and Information Management Group is law enforcement's premier source of comprehensive integrated training and consulting services specific to police records and technology. PRI Management Group has managed projects that include RMS implementations, intelligence sharing applications, records unit process improvements, and UCR crime stat assessments.
